COMMUNITY RESOURCE & RETENTION CENTERS

SHARED VALUES

The Community Resource & Retention Centers strive to improve the retention of all UC Davis students by promoting Student Centered work that advances Equity. We do this by using Intersectional Approaches and Advocacy to build Community and contribute to students' success on campus. In order to enhance the overall student experience, we intentionally ground our work in the field of Student Affairs and student development theory and employ best practices to guide our work.

STUDENT CENTERED

We center students in our daily work by encouraging and supporting programs and services initiated by and for students.

EQUITY

We strive to create a campus community where everyone has access to the resources they need to participate fully and thrive.

INTERSECTIONAL APPROACHES

Our approach to working towards social justice includes an examination and addressing of all forms of oppression and valuing students' multiple identities in a holistic way.

ADVOCACY

We advocate for the needs of all students by creating and sustaining institutional change that fosters an inclusive campus climate and promotes retention of all students.

COMMUNITY

We believe that the success of each individual student is made possible in context of supportive communities. As such, we create spaces that foster community in its many forms.
